PROFILE

My background in data-driven marketing and growth has given me a deep understanding of user behavior and business value, which I bring directly into my coding. I am currently studying fullstack development at IT-Högskolan in Stockholm to build digital solutions all the way from the ground up – bridging the gap between growth strategies and the underlying technology.

As a person, I am driven by great curiosity and a high commitment to everything I take on. I strongly believe that complex challenges require both analytical sharpness and creative problem-solving, and I thrive best when working in a team to create solutions that make a real difference for the end customer.

Privately, I grew up as the oldest of four siblings and have, since a young age, spent most of my free time in the stable. I love spending time in nature, trying new sports, traveling, and meeting new people. Friends and family usually describe me as a grounded, easygoing, and social person who spreads positive energy.

EDUCATION

Sep 2026 – Jun 2028 | Full-stack development - JavaScript focus, It-högskolan · Stockholm

Hands-on program focused on building modern web applications using the JavaScript stack (HTML/CSS, ES6+, Node.js, databases, and modern frameworks). Covers complete front-end to back-end development, API creation, and Version Control (Git/GitHub).

Sep 2023 – Jan 2024 | Entrepreneurship and new business development, School of Business, Economics and Law · Gothenburg

The course provided practical tools and strategic insights for successfully launching and growing a start-up. As part of the program, I participated in Venture Cup, where I presented a startup idea, which later attracted an offer from angel investors.

Aug 2022 – May 2024 | Visual merchandising - unified commerce, IHM (Institutet för högre marknadsföring) · Gothenburg

The program covers courses like retail economics, design, data analysis, unified commerce, sustainable trade, consumer behavior, leadership, digital marketing, visual sales, and includes extensive internships.

”I had the privilege of mentoring Fanny from her very first day as an intern, and watching her grow into a full-time role has been nothing short of inspiring. From the start, she stood out with her curiosity, drive, and eagerness to learn. Over time, she transformed those qualities into real strengths: taking ownership of projects, bringing fresh ideas to the table, and consistently delivering results that exceeded expectations.

Fanny combines a sharp analytical mindset with strong creative thinking, which makes her an invaluable team member. What I admire most is her ability to adapt quickly, take feedback constructively, and turn challenges into opportunities for growth. She’s also a joy to work with: reliable, collaborative, and always bringing positive energy to the team.

I’m proud to have been part of her journey and confident she will continue to achieve great things in her career. Any team would be lucky to have her.”
